Ahmedabad Education Society:-

The foundation of Ahmedabad Education Society was laid in 1935 under the inspiration of Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel, who felt the urgent need to develop Gujarat on the education front as an extension of freedom struggle. The founding fathers of Ahmedabad Education Society were Ganesh Mavalankar, Kasturbhai Lalbhai and Amritlal Hargovindas, who pooled in their money, resources and influence to create a trust. With a legacy of 82 years, Ahmedabad Education Society today is the educational hub of Ahmedabad. It offers exemplary tutelage in field as diverse as Arts, Commerce, Science, Teacher Education, Pharmacy, Architecture, Planning, Business Administration, Computer Application, Management and more.

About the College:-

A.G. Teachers College-CTE was established by the Ahmedabad Education Society in 1952, the first teachers training college of Gujarat has completed 64 years of unstinting contribution to teacher education. Even in the changed academic scenario of today, the institution continues to be guided by the traditions and the goals set by the founding fathers. The college aims at shaping the youth into prospective teachers who can undertake their responsibilities of transforming young citizens to responsible citizens. It is a matter of pride for the institution that it was upgraded by the Central Government as College of Teacher Education (CTE) which undertakes the responsibility of in-service teachers training for three districts (Ahmedabad, Gandhinagar, Surendranagar). The college has been accredited and reaccredited with “A” Grade by NAAC, UGC in 2007 and 2016 respectively.

About the Conference:-

Educational institutes can play an instrumental role in finding solution to current global and local changes and challenges in the field of education to cater the needs of society and nation at large. Education is the backbone of nation. Education is in a great turbulent stage.

New changes and challenges related to education and technology are improving ways in which knowledge can be produced, managed, disseminated, accessed and evaluated. Hence, there is a continuous need to develop progressive teaching-learning and evaluation system that is established on the foundation of excellence that escalates quality in education. As higher education institutes struggle to adopt and adapt these challenges, sharing of innovative process and brainstorming will prove as torchlight towards remedies. This conference aims at sharing success stories related to best practices in the domain of teaching-learning and evaluation.
